THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE NORTH- WEST.

"The Great Northwest" becomes a very indefinite phrase as the frontier moves westward with each decade.
The few States that have recently been admitted to the Union have a good title to the old term "The Great Northwest," and the two Dakotas, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho and Washington make a great empire of new possibilities. The Chicago & North-Western Railway, that once covered the "Old Northwest," ministered to its growth and greatness and was a great missionary factor in the development of northern Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Northern Michigan, Minnesota and Nebraska. This was the Old Northwest, and now, by branch lines or by its alliance with the Union Pacific R'y it stretches out its protecting arms and hand of help to the six States which have begun their march in the path of progress.

What a mighty tide of traffic is served by the thousands of miles of railway that compose the Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line! Reaching sixteen States and the territory of Utah, and touching more than 2,500 cities and towns, there is sure to be a wonderful growth and development, and somewhere in this mighty empire there is always the high tide of prosperity and great opportunities for capital, brains and energy.

The splendid Vestibuled Trains of the North-Western, which provide all the luxuries of travel, convey the traveler comfortably and safely to nearly every part of the "Great Northwest." One of these trains runs through, solid, from Chicago to Portland, Oregon, with sleeping car Chicago to San Francisco without change —another conveys passengers between Chicago and Denver with only the loss of one business day en route, and still another takes them to the Twin Cities of the northwest (St.
Paul and Minneapolis), or to the rapidly growing metropolis, Duluth, without change, in cars that represent the highest skill and ingenuity of the best manufacturers in the world; combining in the highest degree, elegance, safety and luxurious comfort.

FOR SALE.

Comely, healthy as far as known, easy tried, well trained for farm work.

—We were shown an egg a few days ago, the fruit of a Scranton hen, of rather remarkable shape and proportions. It was oblong, about one and a half inches in length, about the size of a man's thumb and had a neck something like a LeConte pear or a short-necked gourd.

—Delegate George Mathien is a sad and disappointed politician. He failed to succeed in leading the delegation to the State Convention, as we predicted he would, and lost on nearly every vote. He is pretty good on the crawl, but it seems that he is too weak to walk much yet. Alas for human frailty! The thing was too big for George.

If the excursion on the "Comet" to the camp ground last Sunday had been advertised just a little, a very much larger crowd would have gone

A glance at the Seashore Camp would probably explain the cause of so many empty pews in the churches here on that day.

Elder J. O. Green, of Oxyka, Miss., a graduate of Mississippi College, about twenty-six years old, has been unanimously called to the pastorate calls, to begin October 1, 1891.

—A few of our people from Moss Point and Scranton have attended the Seashore Camp Meeting, but not so largely as usual.

—The picnic last week, for the benefit of the public school building, realized $85.45 net proceeds. The ladies as well as the enterprising gentlemen who managed this public benefit, deserve great credit for their untiring zeal in the work, which, for want of co-operation, fell heavily upon the shoulders of the few.

—A small party of young ladies and gentlemen spent a most enjoyable evening at the residence of Mrs. E. Childsey on Thursday of last week, in dancing, playing parlor games, etc. The pleasures of the evening were greatly enhanced by the presence of Mrs. Childsey's charming niece, Miss Mabel McConnell, of New Orleans.

—The steamer "Comet" made a passenger accommodation trip to Biloxi last Sunday, transferring passengers there for the camp ground by the "Evangeline." I have been a sufferer of Malaria and its complications, hemorrhage, &c., &c., confined to my bed and room, suffering untold agonies for the long period of THREE YEARS, during which time I was under the treatment of many able physicians, who gave me the remedies generally used in such cases, but to no avail. The New Orleans Loan, Building and Savings Association having chartered their branch office here, quite a number of applications for loans are already in course of preparation.

Clerk W. M. Denny has furnished his office with a regular recorder's desk, prepared meticulously to overcome the great difficulty of writing in a thick record book by imbedding the book so that its page is placed on a level with the desk.

If our mechanics and contractors will report to us the number of houses they have built respectively in the corporate limits of the town of Scranton, and the aggregate cost, within the past two years, we will give our readers an interesting item.

After a test of our artesian water, furnished by the Lewis water works, for several weeks, our citizens are very much pleased with the institution, both for drinking, washing and every other domestic purpose. The water is as clear as crystal, apparently pure and free from any injurious or offensive element and supplied in great abundance.

District Attorney Jas. H. Neville reached here Tuesday to see if the boys were ready for the crowd. He has been up in the woods where the big speakers have been making "Rome howl," and is so thoroughly enthused that he almost made our old Democratic banner shake out its folds. His accounts of the scenes, how-who-who, eloquence and wit and anecdotes he has witnessed and heard constitute the finest campaign rubbing up we have had here this season.

evening at the residence of Mrs. E. Chidsey on Thursday of last week, in dancing, playing parlor games, etc. The pleasures of the evening were greatly enhanced by the presence of Mrs. Chidsey's charming niece, Miss Mabel McConnell, of New Orleans.

The steamer "Comet" made a passenger accommodation trip to Biloxi last Sunday, transferring passengers there for the camp ground by the "Evangeline." A few of our citizens availed themselves of the opportunity and had quite a pleasant trip, though disappointed in not reaching the camp ground in time for morning service.

At a picnic at Bayou Chicot last Sunday it is reported that one of the boys who was engaged in violating the law against hunting on the Sabbath, got himself into trouble that may prove right serious, by shooting a hog belonging to Mr. Geo. Delius, because it was urgent in its demands for part of the watermelon, which is a common failing among hogs on such occasions of temptation.

Mr. Geo. Delius, of Greenwood Island, has inaugurated a new industry here in the fish line, in which he is very much encouraged. He has for some time been experimenting in drying fish by smoke and after some six months' work and experiment, during which he has sustained a number of failures, he now considers that he has the business down to a nice science. After getting them dried to his satisfaction he tells us that he has sent off, in samples, some 2000 pounds, and in return has more orders than he can possibly fill at present with the capacity of his smoke house. He simply salts and thoroughly dries the fish with smoke, when the skin becomes about the consistency of paper and slips off like a bug's skin, and then the wine colored meat parts from the bones about as readily as the skin from the meat. He uses the American sardine, which are of a nice size to use in bar-rooms with beer, and also mullet, white trout and other soft fish, which make, to some tastes, an elegant luncheon.

WHAT ARE THE LIMITS OF THE TOWN OF SCRANTON.

Editor Democrat-Star:

The following, copied from "Sheet acts" of 1886, show that the limits of the town of Scranton extend to and include West Pascagoula river, so the marshal who succeeds "Sink" had better provide himself with a row boat and hand car:

"Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Mississippi, That the town of Scranton, in the county of Jackson, State of Mississippi, be and the same is hereby incorporated, and the limits of said town shall be as follows, to-wit: Commencing at a point half (1/2) mile north of the Court-house, thence running east half (1/2) mile, thence south one (1) mile, thence to the west bank of the Pascagoula river, thence north following the meanderings of said river to a point west of the starting point, thence to the place of beginning."

SEEDAM.

SCHOOL-HOUSE MEETING.

All patrons and friends of the cause of building a public school-house in Scranton, are requested to meet at the Court-house, Saturday at 10 a. m., sharp, to transact business of importance.

S. R. THOMPSON,

Chairman.

F. H. Lewis, Secretary.

Don't expect others to attend to your business at the citizens meeting called for Saturday morning, to consider ways and means to push the work of getting a public school building, but get there as you would to attend to any other individual duty.

Mr. Russell, of Lauderdale, had been selected to place Jas. H. Neville in nomination before the District Attorney's Convention, and had, of course, prepared for the occasion a formal speech, which he did deliver elegantly. But seeing so many ready speakers around him who were for putting things through without regard for waste of breath, as soon as it was announced that nominations were in order he bounced to his feet with "I nominate Jim Neville," and turning round said, in the midst of the general laugh, "I was afraid you fellows would take my job away from me."
